SUMMARY

With a passion for developing effective web applications and a genuine thirst for knowledge, I am a newly qualified web developer equipped with expertise in HTML, CSS, JavaScript, React, Next.js, Node.js, Python, and MongoDB. Throughout my academic journey at Spiced Academy Berlin and my pursuit of a master's degree in Data Science at the University of Potsdam, I improved my problem-solving skills by tackling various programming and design challenges. Notably, in my master's thesis titled "Q4: Towards a Unified Framework for Arabic Question-Answering Tasks," I adeptly navigated complex coding and writing tasks. Additionally, I successfully overcame design and coding problems in numerous individual and group projects, including my final project at the web development boot camp, the "AID-LINGUA AI-NEWS," a newsletter app for individuals with specific accessibility needs.

Moreover, during my time at the Port of Beirut, I undertook the responsibility of creating the master data for the billing system and accomplished the task 15 days ahead of schedule. Additionally, I managed workflows for three projects in collaboration with my colleagues, ensuring seamless project execution and timely delivery. Whether working independently or as part of a team, I consistently met deadlines while upholding a high standard of work.

Driven by a relentless commitment to continuous learning, I thrive on embracing new challenges with hard work and dedication. Seeking a Junior Front End Web Developer position or internship at an IT company where I can apply my full-stack development skills to support innovative web projects and contribute to achieving company goals.
